The diagram illustrates a user interface for a media-on-demand system. At the top left is a circular stamp from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, dated March 9, 2004. Above the stamp, the title 'Media-on-Demand Bookmark System' and 'Replacement Sheet' are printed, along with the serial number '09/692,995' and 'Page 5 of 13'. In the center of the screen is a large movie title 'TITANIC' with the subtitle 'A love story at sea. Starring Leonardo Di Caprio. Rated PG-13'. Below the title are several movie names listed in a grid: Sisters, Story Of Us, There's Something About Mary, Three Kings, Three To Tango, Titanic, TITANIC, Tumbleweeds, Wedding Singer, Whole Nine Yards, Woo, and You've Got Mail. To the left of the movie list is a 'Featured Movies' section containing the same movie titles, with 'Titanic' highlighted. Navigation arrows (left, right, up, down) are positioned at the bottom of the screen. At the bottom right are three service options: 'Service Guide' (labeled 'A'), 'Browse by' (labeled 'B'), and 'Current Rentals' (labeled 'C'). Brackets on the left side group the 'Video-On-Demand' header and the 'Featured Movies' section, and another bracket groups the service options at the bottom. Handwritten numbers 101 through 109 are scattered around the screen, likely indicating specific points of interest or steps in a process.
